In order to give the Company a wider publicity and awareness it is now proposed to take into its fold all the deck cadets (sailing or under training in any DGS approved training institute) without giving them the status of a member or an Associate. This scheme would be named “CMMI DECK CADETS AWARENESS SCHEME”. For implementing this scheme, no changes in Memorandum, Articles, or Rules would be necessary. Undertaking such a programme is permitted under Paras 3(15) and 3(16) of the Objects of the Company.

The deck cadets will be inducted in this “ CMMI DECK CADETS AWARENESS SCHEME” on payment of a nominal one-time administration fee.”

3RD MENTEES FORUM – A REPORT 25TH NOVEMBER 2023

The Mentoring scheme was launched by CMMI in December 2020 and to keep a close watch and review the progress, a Mentors and Mentees Forum is organized alternatively every 6 months. 25th November 2023 was the date fixed for the 3rd Mentees Forum and like always, a Questionnaire was administered to all the Mentees seeking their responses on pertinent questions on the progress of the scheme.

The Forum saw a very good response with participation of more than 70 persons representing the Mentees, to-be-mentees from institutes, various institute Heads, few Wardens, and the Deputy Master (Deputy Chairman) Capt Mohan Naik chairing the Meeting. Hailing it as one of the most pertinent and professional initiative of CMMI where senior Masters are investing time and efforts into grooming the future generation of maritime leaders, Capt Naik lauded the efforts of Capt Yashovardhan Sharma, Dr Capt Suresh Bhardwaj, and CEO Capt Sasikumar in steering this initiative. It was noted that there are about 50 active Mentors mentoring about 100 cadet Mentees in a ratio of 1:2. About 50% of the Mentees were nearing the completion of benefit of the scheme and others were still completing sea-time for OOW Certificate examination.

There was doubtlessly overwhelming positive feedback from the Mentees with few recounting how they benefitted so much from the scheme, both professionally and personally. While only just a few met the Mentors face-to face, What's App was noted to be preferred channel of communications and was told proved very effective even while the Mentees were on board ships.

All Mentees finishing the scheme affirmed they would continue maintaining relationships with their Mentors for many years to come. It was indeed gratifying to see the defined objectives of the scheme delivering in earnest:

1. To help Mentees imbibe the professional values of the merchant marine profession.
2. To help Mentees plan, develop, grow, and manage their careers and make them self-reliant and more responsible as self-directed learners.
3. Towards Leadership and Management Development, more easily gained through application and guided practice.
4. Most importantly, towards Psychosocial Mentoring by providing that emotional support, encouragement, advise, assistance, acceptance, confirmation, and counselling towards smoother induction into the highly operational environment of merchant marine profession.

The Heads of Training Institutes confirmed that in their view the Scheme was extremely beneficial, and they requested CMMI to augment the number of Mentor to be able to take on more Mentees under the scheme. CEO Capt Sasikumar, beaming with delight, sincerely thanked everybody for the participation at the Forum and for making the Mentoring scheme highly successful.

The Master (Chairman) of CMMI, Capt. M.P. Bhasin, extended a warm welcome to the Director General of Shipping, Shri Shyam Jagannathan, IAS acknowledging his pivotal role in supporting and guiding the symposium. Capt. MP Bhasin acknowledged and credited the Director General of Shipping for coordinating the CMMI and bringing the symposium to fruition. He expressed gratitude to the DG for playing a proactive role in organizing the event.

The Director General of Shipping, Shri Shyam Jagannathan, addressed concerns on ship ageing norms as raised by members. He emphasized the importance of a transition window and collaboration in alignment with the Amritkal Vision 2047 for the maritime sector. The four priorities include ensuring safe shipping practices, transitioning towards sustainability, promoting Indian flag and tonnage, and embracing smart shipping with technology. Shri Jagannathan in his speech shared, “The first concern is ship shipping. Even our sea carriers and the vessels that ply our waters are safe, compliant to all the compliance norms, and there is no dilution of the safety standards. The second is the shift or transition towards sustainability. It is an ongoing engagement. The Net Zero 2050 by the IMO has been set. There will be a transition issue, and that is where these norms come in. The third priority that we have is for the Indian flag and Indian tonnage. Whatever in the facilitative ecosystem by way of policy or by rule is provisioned for, it should not undermine the addition to Indian flag tonnage. Because shipping per se is a strategic asset, and we will invest in that accordingly. There can be no dilution of India's maritime national interest. The fourth part is essentially other than safe, sustainable, and secure shipping, is the smart shipping, where we connect with technology.” The DG continued, “With these four pillars, I would be requesting all the eminent dignitaries present here to hand-hold us, take this forward, so that we are able to translate what has been propounded earlier in the Maritime India vision and subsequently in the Amritkal vision. There are policy gaps, there are deficits, and we are here to address that within the framework of these four boundaries that I very clearly laid out before you. I thank you for the opportunity and my colleagues here to join me.”

With this, the DG acknowledged that there were eminent stalwarts who have led path-defining changes. Shri Shyam Jagannathan further sought support from dignitaries to address policy gaps and deficits within these boundaries, expressing gratitude for their involvement in leading impactful changes, particularly acknowledging Madam Joshi's efforts in gender equity and Shri Ashutosh Sharma, Chief General Manager, IFSC 's contributions to financial innovation at GIFT City.

- The Executive Council of the Indian Maritime University at its meeting on 20th April 2022 gave its accent to the CMMI – IMU collaboration that paves the way for the establishment of a Policy Research Cell for the country.
- The initiative is led from CMMI by Capt S Kishore, former Managing Director of Kongsberg Digital Software and Services and from IMU by Prof Dr. Sivakholundu, Dean, Academics.

- The collaborative strength of the highly experienced maritime professionals from the various verticals of the maritime domain that comprise the CMMI membership, and the ground-level empirical research by the scholars at the Indian Maritime University, will ensure necessary rigor and bring forth robust policy level inputs on which strategic directions can be implemented.

This initiative symbolises what a perfect industry – academia collaboration should be for the benefit of the country.
